National Pharmacists Month:

October is National Pharmacists Month in the US!

Here at Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy, we appreciate and recognize pharmacists as vital members of the healthcare team. As an independent pharmacy, we rely on our pharmacists to serve multifaceted roles, not only as health care providers, but also as essential members of managing and scaling up our business. We celebrated National Pharmacists Month by surprising our pharmacists with treats and sharing our appreciation for them, how did you celebrate?

Health Literacy Awareness Day:

In addition to October being National Pharmacists Month, October 1st is Health Literacy Awareness Day.

Health literacy is the extent to which an individual can seek out, implement, and even understand health related treatments and information. Health literacy is a key aspect of having autonomy over one's health and making informed decisions regarding treatment and prevention. While raising awareness about the importance of promoting health literacy, Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy additionally serves to bridge the gap in discrepancies between patients of various backgrounds and their knowledge of health literacy. We help a diverse patient population and love to keep our patients informed on important topics such as health literacy through our social media platforms, in-person conversations, and even this newsletter.

Let's Talk Vaccinations:

Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy is offering the Bivalent COVID-19 Vaccine and has special hours for a Kids Flu Shot Clinic.

Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy Updates:

Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy recently welcomed a new team member on board and will be heading to a rotation fair near you!

Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy recently welcomed a new technician, Guadalupe, to the pharmacy team. We are so excited to have her join us, and we look forward to continually serving our patients as their reliable and approachable local independent pharmacy.

Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy hosts students from various pharmacy schools in the area to come and spend a rotation (an experiential learning component of pharmacy school) with them. Students completing their rotations at Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy leave with a better understanding of the roles, responsibilities, and workflow involved running an independent pharmacy. If you are a pharmacy student, stop by the Western University School of Pharmacy Rotation Fair to hear more about all that a rotation at Parkview Medical Plaza Pharmacy has to offer!
